FIRE AT REFORM SCHOOL

OLD CHAPEL BUILDING AT STATE INSTITUTE BURNED SATURDAY NIGHT.

THE LOSS IS ESTIMATED TO BE $12,000

Was Used as a Dining Hall and Gymnasium—Flames Started in Dome and Rapidly Communicated With Second Floor.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Boonville, Mo., June 19.—Fire of unknown origin partially destroyed the building known as Chapel Hall at the State Manual Training School for Boys here this afternoon, entailing a damage estimated at $12,000.

The building was used as a dining hall and gymnasium, the first floor being used for meals and the second for recreation. The gymnasium equipment was burned, but the boys at the training school succeeded in carrying out all of the chairs and tables and kitchen and table ware.

The fire was discovered about 4:20 o'clock by some of the boys who had entered the building to get into the gymnasium. An alarm was sounded, but the flames had already gained much headway, and before the fire was extinguished the entire second floor had burned, and the interior walls of the lower story were badly damaged, either from fire or water. The kitchen and that part of the building utilized for the colored boys' dining room were only slightly damaged.

While it is not known positively how the fire started, it is presumed that one of the boys at the school caused it by a lighted cigarette or by the careless use of matches. This theory is suggested by reason of the out-of-the-way place where the fire started, having originated in the dome of the building, which is totally free from electric wires or inflammable equipment.

The building was owned by the state of Missouri. The amount of insurance is not known.

BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Young Son of "Dick" Henley, the Well Known Barber.

Elver Henley, the 11-year-old son of "Dick" Henley, a barber, accidentally shot himself with a blank No. 22-calibre revolver at the Delmar hotel at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening, the discharge from the gun entering the right hand, causing a dangerous wound.

Young Henley was prematurely celebrating July 4 with a friend. The friend was holding the pistol, when Henley started to take it, holding his hand over the barrel. It was discharged, with the foregoing result.

Dr. W. J. Ferguson dressed the wound.

AN ICE BOX THIEF

Discovered at Home of Citizen Late Last Night—Made His Escape.

An ice box thief visited the home of H. Soltz, 212-A West Seventh street, at 12:30 o'clock this morning, exchanging a bottle of ice cold Budweiser beer for two pineapples and a sack of green apples.

Mr. Soltz was just returning home from work and entered the porch of his residence, when he encountered a stranger. The man was white, tall and wore a dark felt hat.

Mr. Soltz inquired of the latter's business, when the stranger attempted to strike him. Mr. Soltz had removed one shoe, owing to a sore foot, just before climbing the stairway, and when the man started to hit him he struck the stranger over the head with the shoe.

The latter fell down the flight of stairs and hurriedly made his escape by running around the house and through the front yard.

Officers Jackson and Thompson, Deputy Constable Morg Brown and W. J. Kemp, a secret service officer, responded to the police call, but the intruder had gone.

However, before he took his departure he secured two pineapples and a sack of green apples, leaving in their place a bottle of beer, which he evidently had stolen somewhere else.

The event will be solemnized during the celebration of nuptial mass by Rev. Fr. B. R. McNamee, the pastor. Waldo King will be the groomsmen, and Miss Florence Moore, sister of the bride-to-be, will be bridesmaid.

TO ERECT NEW BUILDING

State Fair Board Decides to Let Contract Without Delay.

John T. Stinson, secretary, and N. H. Gentry, a member of the Missouri state fair board, returned this morning from Jefferson City, where, Saturday, they attended a meeting of the board held at the office of Howard Gass, state superintendent of public schools.

The board decided to have erected as an annex to the machinery pavilion at the fair grounds, an addition to cost approximately $10,000, and the contract for the work will be let at once in order to have the work finished by the coming state fair time.

The new addition will be of brick and will be erected on a plan similar to the present machinery building.

All members of the board were present except Messrs. Coleman and Nelson.

Other matters of a routine nature were disposed of, principally the matter of advertising the fair.

The funds to pay for the new building will be a part of the appropriation recently made by the state legislature for the erection of two new buildings at the fair grounds.

The other building will be a women's pavilion, but work will not begin on it until later, as the board did not deem it necessary to have that building finished for the 1909 fair.

Guhman, a St. Louis real estate dealer, had persuaded him to organize the bank, that certificates of deposit for which there were no deposits had been issued at Guhman's suggestion, and that Guhman planned the fake robbery of the bank to furnish an explanation of the bank's inability to pay several notes which were then due.

A MURDEROUS ASSAULT

Apparently Was Made on Miss Julia Winters Saturday.

Miss Julia Winters, a clerk at Bichsel Bros' jewelry store, had a very narrow escape from serious injury while at work in the rear of the building Saturday afternoon.

Miss Winters was engaged in cleaning a finger ring when the report of a pistol or some kind of a gun was heard. Instantly a ball from the cartridge smashed a window pane in the rear of the store and just grazed Miss Winter's head.

The report of the shot attracted the attention of the proprietors, who hurried to the rear of the store to ascertain the cause. The only person visible was a man standing on the second floor of the Kelk Carriage works, directly in the rear of the jewelry store.

The ball from the cartridge passed through the outside awning and entered the store on a downward glance, giving every indication of having been fired point blank at the young lady.

The police are working on a clew which may lead to the arrest of the guilty party, as every particle of evidence indicates that the shot was fired with the intent of injuring the lady.

The wreck occurred on a sharp curve, while both cars were running at a high speed.

The cause of the collision is not known.

WAS SPECTACULAR RACE

THAT PULLED OFF AT CROWN POINT, IND., SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

"DEMON FRENCHMAN" WON FIRST PLACE

Fifty Thousand People Witnessed the Contest and Many Women and Children Were Overcome by the Intense Heat.

Hearst News Service.

Crown Point, Ind., June 19.—After a bruising and nerve-racking contest, the most spectacular in the history of auto road racing in the United States, Louis Chevrolet, "the demon Frenchman," driving a Buick car, won the Cobe trophy race over the Crown Point-Lowell course today by the narrow margin of one minute and five seconds.

William Borque, driving a Knox car, was second.

The Locomobile, with Robertson at the wheel, captured the third place, with "Eddie" Hearne in the foreign car Fiat, fourth, and Englebeck, in the Stoddard-Dayton, fifth.

Fifty thousand people saw the race. Many women and children stood and sat for hours under the hot sun until they succumbed to the heat, and were carried semi-conscious into temporary hospitals.

The race was run over roads that were in a terrible condition. There were patches that were hardly in shape for ordinary travel, let alone racing.

Luckily no one was injured, but narrow escapes were numerous. One of the racing machines struck Flanagan William Mueller and fractured his collar bone.

The length of the race was 395.65 miles. The fastest lap made was in 22 minutes and 34 seconds, by Denison in a Knox car.

The fastest mile was in 47 2-5 seconds, by Miller in a Stoddard-Dayton.

The fastest lap made by the winner was in 24 minutes and 10 seconds. The fastest mile made by the winner was in 52 2-5 seconds. The winner's average time per mile for the total distance was 1 minute and 21 seconds.

The tot was playing in the back yard and ran onto an old well, covered with tin. The tin gave way, precipitating the child into the water, a distance of fifteen feet.

The child's cries attracted the attention of members of the family, who rescued it.

The only apparent injury was a bad case of fright. Dr. J. M. Harris attended the child.

THE MOVEMENT IS GROWING.

The "Cleaner City" idea is growing. From every portion of the country comes the news that the people are awakening to the necessity of better things, and that clubs, federations, civic organizations and the press are uniting in the crusade. Hardly a day passes but that some new movement along this line is chronicled. The Oshkosh, Wis., Northwestern tells of the progress being made in that city in the following:

Several influences are at work this year to make Oshkosh a cleaner, more healthful and more beautiful city. Public spirited citizens have individually interested themselves in the movement, and by suggestion and example have helped to pave the way for organized effort: some of the high school classes have undertaken a personal canvass of the city to report on the general sanitary conditions of yards and premises, disposal of ashes, garbage, etc.; the city health department and the police department have adopted a systematic plan for enforcing sanitary and wholesome conditions in these matters; and now the local Chamber of Commerce, through its committee on municipal and civic affairs, is planning to aid the movement by offering prizes for the best kept gardens and yards in various sections of the city, and also to take up the question of the improvement of parks and the establishment of playgrounds.

With all these influences at work in unison, perhaps along different lines, but having the same general object in view, there is reason to believe there will be a marked and readily noticeable improvement in conditions in Oshkosh this year, which will make the city one of the cleanest, most sanitary and most attractive places to be found anywhere in the entire country. The city is already supplied in a most bountiful manner with natural attractions and advantages, but there is need of constant vigilance, unceasing effort and mutual co-operation to keep the city as a whole in a condition of tidiness and good order, such as should exist at all times, but particularly during the summer months. Every patriotic resident should therefore join in the movement to secure a cleaner and more beautiful city. And if each individual resident will do his part the desired object will be accomplished easily and speedily and with as much benefit and satisfaction to himself as to others.

The proposed plan of offering prizes for the best kept gardens and yards is a good one, and the Chamber of Commerce deserves much credit for promoting the idea locally. The same plan has been tried with much success in other cities, and there is no reason why it should not meet with the same success in Oshkosh. A beautiful and well kept garden is a delight to the eye, not only of the owner, but to every one who passes such premises. It adds to the actual value of the property also, as well as to the value of adjacent property, and this feature alone should be sufficient to induce special effort along this line. With a few cash prizes hung up as an inducement there will be aroused a friendly rivalry and strife to excel that will help materially in giving additional interest to such work. So let everybody pitch in this year and make Oshkosh better, cleaner, brighter than it has ever been before in its history.

Samuel Untermyer, the well known corporation lawyer of New York City, makes a serious indictment against the government when he asserts that there never has been an honest, intelligent effort to enforce the simple provisions of the law against monopolies and conspiracies of the criminal kind.

Lawyer Untermyer is in a position to know whether the law is sufficient and whether its breakers are vulnerable upon prosecution. He has figured in many important cases dealing with large corporations and is therefore familiar with their practices as well as with the statutes governing them.

We had seven years of trust busting under Theodore Roosevelt, and with what result? The net proceeds from that noisy campaign are limited so far as the terminating of illegal combination are concerned, to one judgment. The Northern Securities case was a victory for the government, which dissolved a notorious railroad merger and stood the test of the supreme court. Outside of that what was accomplished. Nothing really worth mentioning. There was a spectacular prosecution of the beef trust, but it ended in a grand collapse and the trust still flourishes. There was a sensational prosecution of the Standard Oil Co., in which the government was whipped to a standstill.

A few railroads were fined for giving rebates and a few corporations were fined for accepting them. Perhaps it put a stop to the practice and perhaps it didn't. The fines were not severe and were little felt by the corporations which paid them.

The oil monopoly was proceeded at in a halfhearted manner and the proceeding still jogs along the way. The prices of oil and of sugar and coal and other necessities are still arbitrarily fixed by the mammoth corporations which control them, and whose unlawful existence and illegal practices still hold undiminished sway.

The Roosevelt crusade was a huge verbal affair, with countless investigations, peachments and messages which were more often empty in results than otherwise. Little of genuine value to the country was done, despite the fan-fare and the blare of trumpets.

When a law-breaker was cornered and might have been sent to prison he was either given an immunity bath or dismissed with a letter of recommendation from the president. Will the Taft administration do any better? The indications are not such as to enthrone us with any hope. The probability is that things will rest pretty much as they are. The trusts will go on as they have in the past, buying up favors from congress and prosecuting their nefarious conspiracies without fear or danger.

A newspaper philosopher sets it down as a fact that when a man has money to burn there is always one or more persons standing around with matches to start the conflagration.

Miss Laura Drinkwater and Louis Champaign were recently married in New York. Sort of a mixed marriage.

If the headquarters of the Black Hand are in Ohio both Pittsburg and New York will doubtless be piqued.

HAS BEEN DOING GOOD WORK

Reference is Had to the Missouri Pacific Management.

"The Missouri Pacific can do the work if they want to," are the words uttered by a member of the Missouri state board of railroad and warehouse commissioners Friday afternoon on reaching Sedalia, after an inspection trip over the Lexington branch, in company with General Superintendent E. A. Gould and other company officials.

The "old reliable" has been making extensive improvements on the Lexington branch line during the past few months, and Friday the board inspected the work.

They complimented the management very highly, adding what is printed in the foregoing. Supt. A. J. Alexander accompanied the party. The board inspected the river district Saturday.

BROTHERS IN HARD LUCK

Harry and George Wagner the Victims of Hard Luck.

Harry Wagner, a former member of the city fire department, now employed by his father, Adam Wagner, a butcher, painfully lacerated the thumb on his right hand Friday evening while at work. The injury was dressed by Dr. Wills.

Thursday afternoon Mr. Wagner's brother, George, employed at the same place, severed the end of one finger on his left hand by hitting it with a meat cleaver. Dr. F. R. Morley dressed the latter wound.

THE COUNCIL SHOULD ACT

Clinton "Fathers" Ought to Pattern After Sedalia "Dads."

The recent action of the Sedalia city authorities in revoking the license of a "bankrupt sale" concern, and then putting a new license so high they had to roll on, should be emulated in Clinton, says the Clinton Democrat.

We have far more respect for a man's judgment who patronizes Sears, Roebuck & Co. than we have for one who buys of these fly-by-night "railroad wreck," "bankrupt sale" houses.

One of these concerns was in Humansville last week and the Star-Leader says:

"We don't suppose they had a genuine bargain in their house, and the majority of people who investigated came to the same conclusion; but the people were here and were trading with other merchants. It don't stand to reason that this 'sheep' outfit can travel around at a heavy expense and sell dependable merchandise at such prices as they quoted."

The license for these transient outfits should be boosted so high that they can not afford to light in Clinton.

With the Spirit of Chivalry.

A cavalier strayed out of a colonial novel and wandered around Washington until he grew old and lonely, and oh, so poor, that the only thing he owned was the non-negotiable asset that a gentleman calls his honor.

His gray hair still retained its rakish wave, and every line of his shabby slenderness called for double, lute and white palfrey, says a Washington correspondent. Only his eyes belonged to the world he walked in. They were just ordinary, pleasant eyes that accepted philosophically the fact that he was old and perhaps friendless and certainly poor. And they looked downward as he walked along the quiet street, his lips moving with his thoughts, as is the way with people who live alone.

As he reached a crossing a tiny thing on the bricks caught his interest and he stooped and picked it up. The cavalier spirit that was not quite lost forever made him place the tiny thing against his lips before he put it in his pocket, but while he did it the eyes smiled whimsically, as if they were making fun.

And the thing he picked up was a hairpin.

A common, wire, wide-sprawling hairpin, that no nice woman would wear.

Turned Down.

There is a certain Washington maid, who is rich in her own right, and whose natural generosity has on more than one occasion been imposed upon by impecunious friends of both sexes in the set whereof she is a member.

At a dance not long ago an acquaintance of hers was, quite by chance, in a position to overhear a portion of a rather delicate conversation between the aforesaid young woman and her cousin Jack.

"Caroline," the young fellow was heard to say, "you know that I have long been fond of you. Now, I'm going to ask you for the . . ."

"Really, Jack, I can't do it," interrupted the young woman, hastily. "I've been so unlucky that way!"

"What are you driving at?" came from Jack. "I'm about to ask you to marry me."

Caroline heaved a sigh of relief. "Mercy, Jack!" she exclaimed, "I thought you were going to ask a loan!"—Harper's Weekly.

A More Joyous Capital.

Washington, in the course of time, is to be not only a more beautiful city, but also a much more joyous and gay capital than the nation has known hitherto. Forces, open and concealed, direct and indirect, financial, educational and personal, are bringing this to pass. Washington is to be a great center for treasures of art. It will come to have higher musical standards and better permanent orchestras and choral societies. President Roosevelt did much to hasten the city's aesthetic development by his co-operation with architects and artists, and now President Taft takes up the work with a plan for creating a great outdoor social center in Potomac park, where concerts of high grade will be given during seasonable weather.

Superintends Her Dairy.

Mrs. Philander Knox, wife of the secretary of state, is very fond of her country home near Valley Forge, Pa., and when there takes charge of the supervision of the dairy. In Washington she is a member of the celebrated Cosmos club and takes part in its discussions. She is not fond of the new rich, it is said, and invites to her house those who are fitted by mental acquirements, rather than wealth, to take part in the affairs of society.

MOURNERS WERE JARRED

When Youth Rose at Funeral and Scored Church Folk.

Sutherland, Neb., June 19.—John Chilcott created a sensation at his mother's funeral here yesterday by rising in the presence of a large number of relatives, friends and neighbors of the dead woman and bitterly arraigning the church people of the town for having failed to pay her more attention during the illness that resulted in her death.

The young man's mother, Mrs. Wm. Gillette, was a member of the Methodist church, and the son charged that when she was sick and suffering the members of the church neither called to see her nor in any way tried to make her last days more comfortable, and, for this neglect, he declared, they should be ashamed of themselves.

Many of the men and women whom he arraigned were in the room when he was speaking, and some of them became so indignant that they left the house before the service was concluded.

Unfailing Baked Custards.

To one whole egg, the white and yolk beaten together, add two cups of scalded milk, while still hot. Sweeten to taste. Pour into individual custard dishes and grate nutmeg over the top of each. Set in a pan of warm water in a moderate oven. Bake slowly. Do not let the water in the pan boil. This makes five individual custards. An important point in custard-making is to use fresh milk.

Oyster Pepper Roast.

Pick over one dozen large oysters, strain the liquor and measure; there should be one-half of a cupful. Add to the oysters with one teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half of a tablespoonful of tomato catsup and two tablespoonfuls of chopped green or red peppers. Turn into a flat dish and cook in a hot oven until the edges of the oysters curl, then pour over buttered toast.

Apricot Charlotte.

Dissolve a third of a box of gelatin in cold water; when smooth add a cup of boiling water, three-quarters of a cup of sugar, the juice of a lemon and a cup of mashed apricot pulp; when cold add about a cup of cream whipped; put into a mold and set on ice for some time before serving.

There have been many inquiries at the desk lately from young men for books to help them in the choice of an occupation. For the benefit of all who want information on this subject the following selected list is made of some of the most practical books in the library.

Sensible advice on choice of an occupation; compositions obtained through use of advertisements, letters of application and recommendation, unsolicited letters and personal interviews; on keeping positions and winning promotion, with special hints to applicants for various classes of positions.

PLEASED WITH THESPIANS

Columbia Tribune Has a Good Word for Sedalia Taent.

The Columbia Tribune of Thursday had the following in regard to the appearance of the Sedalia Thespians in Columbia last Wednesday night:

Latour's Thespians' presentation of "Smiles and Tears" at the Columbia theater last night highly pleased the photographers of the state and a large number of Columbia people. The veteran actor, Coudock, made this play famous years ago, and last night was the ninety-eighth time that Mr. Latour and his Thespians had presented it. Fourteen years ago this amateur organization first played it, and with two exceptions the caste last night was the same as upon the initial performance. Mr. Latour's conception and his presentation of the character of Peter Probitry could hardly be improved upon. The best evidence of its merits was the fact that tears were seen in many eyes in the affecting scenes. The other characters were played with merit. Special mention should be made of Mr. Latour's reading of "Life's a Very Funny Proposition After All."

The second part of the program was devoted to musical specialties. Mrs. Kate Antes Waddell, who is pleasantly remembered by friends in Columbia when she was a student at Stephens college, and who was with Lillian Russell two seasons, sang two numbers. In one of them a local hit upon J. L. Douglass that was apropos of the occasion, brought down the house. Vratislav Mudroch's violin offerings were so pleasing that the audience insisted upon two encores. Mrs. Blanche Latour Ott's "Duchess of Central Park" made a decided hit. Miss Madge Mundy gave a character song, "The Jewel of Asia." In a Japanese costume she sang in the voice and with the style and expression that has captivated whomever has had the privilege of hearing her. Miss Carter accompanied Miss Mundy and Miss Bewick and Mr. Mudroch.

A SNAKE AROUND HIS LEG

Wrapped Itself and Scared English Nearly to Death.

Evansville, Ind., June 19.—While going to a buggy factory here yesterday to seek employment, Herman English was attacked by a snake and the reptile coiled itself around the young man's leg.

English yelled for help and started to run down the street, half-crazed.

A crowd of men who were working near by came to his rescue, unwrapped the snake from his leg and killed it.

Barley Gruel.

Mix three teaspoonfuls of barley flour with cold water to form a thin paste. Add one cupful of boiling water and boil 15 minutes; then add one-half cupful of milk; season, reheat and strain.

A dainty and pretty way of serving an egg: Beat the white of the egg to a stiff froth, adding a bit of salt while beating, pile on to a piece of buttered toast that has been softened in boiling water, make a depression in the center of the white to drop in the yolk, sprinkle with salt and add bits of butter. Place in the oven to set the egg.

Mayonnaise Dressing.

Yolks of three eggs, well beaten; one-half teaspoon ground mustard, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, three rounding tablespoonfuls sugar, eight tablespoonfuls vinegar and butter size of an egg. Cook all together for about five minutes. If wanted for vegetable salad, leave out one tablespoonful sugar and add teaspoon celery seed. Add one-third sweet cream before using. This will keep for weeks if covered and put in cool place.

Montgomery Pie.

Part 1. One lemon, one egg, one-half pint water, one tablespoon flour, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup New Orleans molasses. Divide into three pie tins which you have lined with good pie crust.

Part 2. One cup white sugar, one-half cup sour milk, one-quarter cup butter, one egg, 1 1/4 cup flour. Drop batter by spoonfuls into filling in pie tins.

Egg Soup.

One tablespoonful of beef extract, stirred into one quart of boiling water until thoroughly dissolved. Add a grated onion, a dash of celery seed, two spoonfuls of salt and one of pepper. Stir until boiling, strain and add the beaten yolks of two eggs.

MISSED HIS WEDDING DAY

Youth Who Wandered Into Canton, Ohio, Mentally Unbalanced.

Canton, O., June 19.—Word reached Canton today that Rev. Martin, of Hillsdale, Mich., would come here to identify Arthur Hewes, of Hillsdale, who wandered to this city while mentally unbalanced.

Hewes continues to declare that he does not know how he got to Canton, who his parents are, or where he lost possession of his mental faculties.

Hewes disappeared June 10 from his home at Hillsdale, Mich.

He was to have been married last Monday to Miss Barbara Seamon, 20. She said they had no differences and she could not account for his action. "I don't know anything about a girl," said Hewes to his questioners.

BODY FOUND IN A TRUNK

YOUNG WHITE WOMAN IS STRANGLED TO DEATH IN GOTH-AM'S CHINATOWN.

POLICE TRYING TO UNRAVEL MYSTERY

A Scrawling Note Left by the Slayer Is the Only Clue—Celestial She Knew Is Missing and Is Being Sought.

New York, June 19.—In a small inside room in a four-story building, at No. 782 Eighth avenue, inhabited mostly by Chinese, the body of a 20-year-old girl was found late last afternoon. She had been strangled with a window shade cord, her body wrapped in a sheet and thrust into a flat steamer trunk, which was bound with a rope.

Investigations made by the police indicate that the girl was Miss Elsie L. Sigel, daughter of Paul Sigel, of No. 209 Wadsworth avenue, and a granddaughter of General Franz Sigel, who, during the Civil war organized a regiment in St. Louis and later became colonel of the Third Missouri volunteers.

Two rooms, in one of which the body was found, were inhabited by Chinese, one of whom called himself William L. Leon, the name of the other being Chung Sin.

Both men are missing, have, in fact, been missing for about nine days, and from the evidence at hand, letters and random notes, police headquarters detectives believe the tragedy was the result of a quarrel between the two Chinese over the girl.

Mrs. Paul Sigel and her daughter, Elsie, had for several years been identified with missionary work in Chinatown. They were known in missionary circles there. Miss Sigel had often been seen in company of Wm. Leon.

One of the policemen who was sent to her home last night reported that in her room there was a photograph of a young Chinese similar to the one which was found in the room in which her body was found.

What emphasized the belief that her death was the result of a quarrel between Leon and one of his companions was a note found in the room on a bed, unsigned, and written in a scrawling hand. It read:

"I hope you do not get mad at me because all the trouble come from me. Hope some day the happiness come to us both."

There was great excitement among the Chinese in the vicinity when the murder was discovered, but, with the exception of the proprietor, they could not be induced to view the body.

Examination showed that it was first wrapped in a blue blanket, although the outer clothing was removed. The feet were bare.

Dragging the trunk out into a hall, the detectives began a more minute inspection. Decomposition had progressed so far, however, that except for the witness of the feet it would have been difficult to ascertain whether it was the body of a white woman. Soon after Mrs. Sigel had been notified it was removed to the morgue.

Turning their attention again to the room, officers found a butcher's cleaver, which gave further color to the theory offered as borne out by the bloody corpse.

The house where the trunk was found is a three-story structure, used mainly as a chop suey restaurant. The upper floors are rented to Chinamen.

Sun Leung, the proprietor, brought about the revelation of the crime. He noted a peculiar odor, and fearing that some one had committed suicide, notified the police. They ascended to the top floor, entered a small room and pried open a steamer trunk. They lay the body, with a rope wound tightly about the throat, and also tied about the knees and arms.

The body was covered with blood and the clothing was torn, indicating there had been a struggle.

The Chinaman Not Yet Arrested. New York, June 19.—William L. Leon, the Chinaman, in whose room Elsie Sigel was found strangled to death and her body crowded into a trunk, was still unbound today, and it is reported he took a steamer for the isthmus of Panama last Friday.

Paul Sigel, Elsie's father, still refuses to identify the body as that of his daughter, while the mother of the girl has declared that articles of jewelry found in the room with the body belonged to her daughter.

That Leon had other correspondents than Miss Sigel was learned today, when 1,500 letters, mainly from various white women in New York and other cities, were found in the room. Among them were a number signed Elsie, of which some, the police say, were love letters.

Outdoor Social Center for Washington.

President Taft has decided to make the Marine band earn its salary and at the same time create in Washington an outdoor social center similar to the Moleon in Havana, the Lunetta in Manila, Hyde park in London, and the Court of Honor in Florence. He will have the band play twice a week on the banks of the Potomac river, at a point on the Speedway near the Washington monument.

The idea is said to be Mrs. Taft's, and many prominent Washington people are expected to turn out on the days designated. In order to give the innovation an official character the president and Mrs. Taft will attend the first concert on April 14 and all subsequent concerts while they are in town.

Was Determined to Wed.

Swathed like a mummy and lying on a cot in the Punxsutawney (Pa.) hospital, James Sharkey, who a week previous fell 90 feet from a bridge, peeped with one eye from his bandages and watched the ceremony that made him a husband. Miss Bessie McLaughlin, daughter of Justice of the Peace J. B. McLaughlin, of Somerville, was the bride. The marriage register was signed by the injured man, but he had to hold the pen between his teeth to do it, making his mark. Sharkey fell from a railroad bridge and both arms and one leg were broken, his abdomen was ripped open and his face was bruised almost beyond recognition, and one eyelid split. He did not lose consciousness and demanded that his wedding plans be carried out.

San Francisco, June 19.—Punished as he had never been punished before, and fought down inch by inch, Game Frankie Neal was knocked out by Monte Attell in the eighteenth round here this afternoon by a blow which stretched him on the floor, it being a full left swing which caught him on the point of the chin.

This makes Attell the bantam champion of the world.

THE FALL CAUSED DEATH

NOTHING SUSPICIOUS IN CONNECTION WITH DEATH OF "ANDY" SHOBE.

CORONER F. R. MORLEY HELD INQUEST

Also Post-Mortem Examination of the Body—Verdict Was That Fall Was Direct Cause of Death—Burial Saturday.

The death of "Andy" Shobe was the direct result of falling from the second story of the Arnold building on Lamine avenue last Monday night.

Such was the substance of the coroner jury's report Saturday, after investigating Mr. Shobe's death to ascertain if he had been drugged on the night that he fell.

The inquest was held at the court house during the forenoon. Previously Coroner Morley held a post-mortem on Mr. Shobe's body. He discovered that the left leg had been fractured, also that the left collar bone and four ribs on the left side of his body had been broken, one of the ribs penetrating the left lung, causing the lung to fill with blood.

Among the witnesses examined at the inquest were Mr. J. H. Mertz, who testified that he sold Mr. Shobe a bottle filled with bromidia on the night of the fall, and about two hours later sold him another bottle filled with the same drug, after Mr. Shobe had informed him that the first bottle had been broken by women in his room.

Officers John Jackson, who found the body, and George Thompson testified as to the finding of the body.

Officer Jackson also testified that when he found Mr. Shobe the latter complained of having been pushed out of the window. A step-ladder was secured and entrance gained to the room from the rear, but the front door was locked, and on one other than Mr. Shobe could have been in the room.

B. E. Smith, clerk at the Kaiser hotel, testified that he heard cries of a man in pain and notified the officers.

Dr. W. C. Overstreet testified as to having attended the patient after the accident, as did also Dr. Morley.

The jury's verdict was in accordance with the foregoing.

Among other witnesses examined were Dave Suhler and "Bob" Rose. Each testified as to Mr. Shobe's condition on Monday night.

The remains of Mr. Shobe were interred in the Shobe burying ground, west of town, Saturday noon. There was no burial service.

RARE SURGICAL OPERATION

Bone From Leg of Lamb Grafted Into Right Leg of a Man.

Chicago, June 19.—The grafting of a section of a bone from the leg of a lamb into the right leg of a man was the rare surgical operation performed at the Frances Willard hospital yesterday.

Dorcel Townsend, an elevator operator, was taken to the hospital several days ago, suffering from a compound fracture of the leg. The operation was decided upon rather than amputation.

Chicago surgeons say this is the first time the operation has been attempted in America.

NEED A LITTLE SPECIAL CARE.

Children's Aprons Must Be Looked After to Insure Proper Appearance.

These should always be slightly starched, if left quite limp they will not keep their appearance any time and will very soon soil. Muslin pinafores should be put through stiff starch and must always be starched wet. Wring well and roll in a towel for some time before ironing. Those made of thicker material may be slightly dried and then rolled up. When ironing aprons always commence with the embroidery, pulling it out well and ironing very carefully.

The rest of the apron is, as a rule, very simple to iron. Always keep the top of the apron at your left-hand side and iron the material single when possible.

If the pinafore is joined up the back, iron it double, first the front and then the back, or iron it on the skirtboard. If there are tucks along the foot, stretch them out well when ironing to prevent them dragging. Iron as much as possible with the thread of the material. A small iron must be used for getting into all gathers. Always finish off well round the armholes and iron out all strings and iron round hems on the wrong side.

If there is a full drawn front, it sometimes looks well ironed.

NOVELTIES FOR TEA TABLE.

Little Accessories That Add Much to Attractiveness.

A girl who has her own tea table can make it much more attractive by often having little novelties. All girls like to try something new, and the new things become by and by regular favorites. One of these novelties is to put about a spoonful of orange marmalade in a cup of tea. It gives a delicious flavor and is a change from the usual slice of lemon.

Many persons have served marmalade sandwiches with tea, but it is newer to use the marmalade in the tea and some other kind of sandwiches. Those made with a nut paste would be good, or pats de foie gras. Swedish wafers buttered and heated would also be delicious.

Some girls do not care for tea and are very fond of chocolate, so it is a good plan to serve chocolate, too, for one's friends. It can either be done by having the chocolate sent up from the kitchen all made or by using an instantaneous chocolate for unexpected company. The latter is made by pouring boiling water over it just like tea, except that it must be stirred until dissolved.—Woman's Home Companion.

Tasty Beef Tongue
Boil a beef tongue in salted water until tender. Remove the skin and lay the tongue in vinegar to which two dozen cloves and a level teaspoonful of cinnamon have been added. Let it remain in the vinegar three or four hours. Pour four tablespoonfuls of olive oil in a saucepan; add a clove of garlic cut fine, one medium sized onion and several sprigs of parsley, chopped. When the onion is fried to a light brown add two-thirds of a bottle of tomato catsup, three tablespoonfuls of Worcestershire sauce and a dash of cayenne pepper. Remove the tongue from the vinegar, lay in the sauce, cover and let simmer until ready to serve.

THEY WANT 'PHONE SERVICE

To That End a Meeting Will Be Held Thursday Afternoon.

Thomas J. Everhardt, one of Pettis county's best known citizens, formerly of the Georgetown neighborhood, but now residing southeast of the city, was in town Saturday, trading.

"Tom" says the people of his section are anxious for telephone connection with Sedalia, and to that end a meeting of those interested will be held at Pleasant Valley school house, five miles southeast of Sedalia, Thursday afternoon, June 24. The intention is to construct a line to Sedalia, thus accommodating between twenty-five and thirty patrons. Whether connection will be made with the Bell or the Home company here will be determined later.

Mr. Everhardt says the oat crop is now made, and the only thing that could hurt it would be a downpour of hail or a wind storm that would lay it low.

"Tom" further says that the farmers of that section propose to improve the road to Sedalia by filling up all of the holes with "niggerheads" taken from land adjoining the road, after which the Twenty-Mile road commissioners will be asked to put on a coat of gravel.

BARRED 'THE BRIDAL MORNING'

Pittsburg Clothes Lovers Win Another Victory Over Nude Art.

Pittsburg, Pa. June 19.—Pittsburgers who like plenty of clothes on their pictures have won another signal victory. "The Bridal Morning" will not be hung on the walls of the Carnegie Art Gallery permanently, but will be shipped back to its owner, George Sauter, of London, at the end of this month. In other words, the Carnegie art committee has decided not to buy the nude painting for the permanent collection, as had been the custom in years past with prize winners.

The decision of the art committee to turn down the nude picture, which so incensed Pittsburg, was made known last evening when it was announced that four more pictures had been purchased for the permanent collection and the list given out did not include "The Bridal Morning." It was also admitted that no more pictures would be purchased. The pictures bought today are:

"Portrait of Mrs. C." by William M. Chase, of New York; "November Hills," (third prize winner) by Bruce Crane, of New York; "Spring Morning," by Childe Hassam, of New York, and "Munich Boy," by J. Frank Currier, who has since died.

St. Joseph Man Picked Up by Police While Borrowing.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 19.—A man giving the name of Irwin D. Atterbury, who claims residence in Kansas City, and who is recognized as possessing most intimate knowledge of the unwritten work of a great number of secret orders, fell into the hands of the police yesterday and was heavily fined in court.

Atterbury stood about the Union passenger station greeting travelers and strangers, tipping off lodge grips and pass words.

"We belong to the same lodge; welcome to our fair city," is the way he laded it out to an up-country lodge member, who says he parted with a $5 loan just before Atterbury was taken into custody.

HONEYMOON IN BALLOON

Roger Noble Burnham, the Sculptor, to Take His Bride Into the Clouds.

Pittsfield, Mass., June 19.—An aerial honeymoon will start from the Pittsfield Aero park tonight, when Roger Noble Burnham, the Boston sculptor, and his bride, Miss Eleanor Howard Waring, a writer of Brookline, will journey to cloudland in the big balloon Pittsfield, Heart of the Berkshires, piloted by William Van Sleet. Mr. Burnham and Miss Waring are to be married this noon at New Forest, the country home of Mrs. Emma Fay, at Woods Hole, Cape Cod.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnham will leave Woods Hole on the afternoon train and arrive at Pittsfield at 10 o'clock, when a wedding supper will be served, the bridal couple and their aerial pilot supping together. At midnight the balloon, provisioned for the trip, will be released from the park. It will be the intention of the honeymooners to make an extended trip, and they don't care how long they have to stay up or where they come down.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of the late Col. George Houston Waring, of Savannah, Ga., who first introduced the famous Morgan horses in the south. Her mother was a Mrs. Howard, highly connected in Boston and Cambridge.

BITTEN BY A MANGY PUP

THE BEAUTY OF MRS. CARTER'S PET TERRIER, "DIMPLES," DISFIGURED.

DOG IS NURSED LIKE AN INJURED CHILD

High-Priced Doctor Called and Spent Half of the Night in Patching Up Canine, Which Was Then Put in Its Little Bed.

St. Louis, Mo., June 19.—"Dimples" is in a bad way. So bad, in fact, that one of the highest priced St. Louis surgeons doesn't think she will ever regain her beauty if she recovers. Dimples is Mrs. Leslie Carter's Boston terrier.

She (Dimples) was badly chewed up by a mongrel pup, and when the flunky whose sole duty is to attend to her when she is not in her mistress' lap, carried her to the Washington hotel, where Mrs. Carter is staying, the high priced surgeon was called.

He spent half the remaining part of the night patching up Dimples and administering soothing lotions. Mrs. Carter went him one better, and although tired from a strenuous matinee and evening performance, she sat at Dimples' bedside (yes, Dimples sleeps in a bed) and stroked her velvety paw until after sunrise.

It happened this way. When Mrs. Carter returned from the Delmar Garden theater, where she is appearing, she found that the flunky had neglected to give Dimples an airkin. He was ordered to do so at once, and while Dimples was towing him down King's highway a horrid, mangy, mongrel, insect-infested pup took offense at her haughty bearing and assaulted her.

SEDALIA BRANCH A SUCCESS

E. J. Adamson, of Jesse French Piano Co., Doing Effective Work.

With the appointment of agencies in the district, the Sedalia branch of the Jesse French Piano Co. is fast becoming established, and Manager E. J. Adamson feels good over the results thus far obtained. It has been only a few months since Sedalia was determined upon as the logical place for a permanent branch of this great firm, and the territory under Mr. Adamson's jurisdiction embraces a dozen or more counties. Manager Adamson has just recently succeeded in securing the following firms to represent him in their towns: H. A. Schroeder, Cole Camp; A. W. Cooper Furniture Co., Windsor; A. H. Hader Furniture Co., Higginsville; Mrs. H. M. Ellis Millinery Co., Tipton; Nelson & Wilson Furniture Co., Versailles; Misses Eva & Mary White Millinery Co., Warsaw; C. B. Corwin Stationery Co., Jefferson City. Other towns will soon have agents, and the work will proceed until every county in the district is represented.

The Jesse French Piano Co. is a $3,000,000 concern. It has been in existence since 1872, and today is one of the foremost piano houses in the world. The famous pianos and player pianos manufactured are used all over the world, some occupying places in the largest music conservatories. With branch houses at Birmingham and Montgomery, Ala.; Chattanooga, Nashville, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Austin, Fort Worth and Sedalia, it is evident with the selection of Sedalia, its most western branch, that its enterprise has no bounds, and that it is pushing westward with the same progressiveness as has characterized its growth in recent years.

Ten thousand pianos are manufactured every year by the Jesse French company, and included are the Starr, Grand, Richmond, Trayser and Remington Upright Pianos and the Starr, Richmond and Trayser player pianos.

THREAT TO WRECK TRAINS

Demand for $5,000 Was Made Upon the Wabash Road.

St. Louis, Mo., June 19.—An elaborate plan for wrecking passenger trains between St. Louis and Edwardsville, Ill., is outlined in letters sent in the past three weeks to officials of the Wabash railroad, demanding $5,000. A threat was made to explode mines on the right of way if the money was not forthcoming. One suspect was arrested yesterday.

He gives his name as Robert J. Hayes, aged 22 years. The general manager of the Wabash has received several threatening letters. He sought the assistance of the chief of police and the chief of detectives in capturing the author. According to the letters, Thursday was the last day to be allowed the officials to pay.

Fifty men with lanterns walked up and down the track all night and the crews of all trains were instructed to run at half speed between the two points and keep a sharp lookout.

The suspect was arrested as he applied at a general delivery window for mail from a Wabash official. He denies the charges. He says a man he met on the street gave him a dime to go get the letter. Samples of writing found in his hotel room correspond to the writing in the letters to the railway official.

Present-Day Press Agent.

The development of the press agent's functions from his former humble duty of distributing circus and theater tickets and arranging for newspaper and billboard advertising has been remarkable indeed. He has become the official mouthpiece of corporations and large interests, their spokesman and the interpreter of their motives where these are liable to misconception by a captious public; the organizer and accelerator of opinion through statements picturesquely setting forth the merits of the company in question, whether the subject in hand is the superiority of a brand of sugar or of train service to Chicago, or yet the bearing of a higher tariff duty on the ultimate happiness of consumers.—New York World.

NO SHORT WEIGHT IN GOLD COIN FLOUR.

Rolls Oats Bread.

This makes two loaves. Take one cup of rolled oats, put into bread pan, turn on two cups of boiling water, stir and while hot add a small tablespoon of lard or half lard and half butter, a heaping teaspoon of salt and two tablespoons of sugar; also two of molasses or one of dark molasses. Now add one cup of cold water and, if cool enough, add one-half yeast cake dissolved in a little water. Now stir in all the white flour it will take with a spoon. Set in a warm place over night. In the morning, with spoon fill your pans part full, let rise to nearly top of pan, then bake an hour.

Home-Made Chair Bottoms.

Take strong, heavy wrapping paper, cut out the form you desire and with a firm paste stick six thicknesses of the paper together, making a thick paste-board. Trim the edges smooth like the pattern you cut, and with round-headed tacks nail it to the frame. After it is well dried varnish it and you have a neat, strong seat to the chair, with little or no expense.

Beef Loaf.

One and one-half cups of bread crumbs to two pounds of ground meat, or hamburger steak, three level teaspoons salt, half a teaspoon of pepper, or, if preferred, use poultry seasoning to taste. Mix with milk and water, as much as can be used and have it hold together. Bake about an hour.

Sponge Candy.

One cup of table sirup, one cup of granulated sugar. Let boil until it cracks when dropped in cold water. Take two teaspoons of baking soda, rubbed smooth, stir soda quickly into candy. After removing candy from fire when thick turn out on buttered platter and let cool.

Wine Sauce for Mutton.

Take one tumbler of currant jelly, one tumbler of tomato catsup, one tea-cupful of brown sugar, one tumbler of wine, one wineglassful of brandy, one-half pint of mutton gravy, from which grease has been skimmed. Thicken this with a little flour.

Cornmeal Pudding.

Take a cupful of sour milk, a cupful of dried fruit, a pinch of salt and a half-teaspoonful of soda; add cornmeal to form a batter. Steam in a turk's head tin.

AFTER MISSOURI WOLVES

Farmers Hunting Pests With Horse, Dog and Gun.

Whiteside, Mo., June 20.—On account of the increase in number of wolves and their depredations, farmers are taking their guns and riding on horseback hunting the pests, trying in this way to get rid of them. The killing of sheep and lambs by the wolves is almost a daily occurrence.

Farmers are much concerned about the gradual increase of the wolves and their boldness. Not only do they attack the sheep at night, but they are making their attacks in the daytime. Yesterday a hunt was on with guns and wolf dogs.

Fluff Rug.

To make a fluff rug of old ingrain carpet cut it into bias strips about an inch and a half wide. Before cutting rip widths, cut into convenient sizes, on the bias, and wash. Sew the strips together like carpet rags. Do not cut apart until a goodly pile has fallen behind the machine. Then cut threads and "hank" over a board—I used a lid to a shirt box. Wash these hanks to ravel edges and make fluffy. Send to carpet weaver and have woven like rag carpet. Not dainty work, but quickly done and makes a good rug.

Steamed Cranberry Pudding.

Cream a half cup of butter, add gradually a cupful of sugar and three eggs well beaten. Mix and sift well three eggs of pastry flour with one and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Add the flour alternately with a half cupful of milk to the butter, sugar and eggs, and lastly add a half cup of cranberries. Steam in a covered buttered mold for three hours and serve with sweetened cream.

Cheer Up!

Some are dining in our ears that we Americans and moderns generally are intellectual dwarfs compared with the ancients or even the Elizabethan men. But what is that to the purpose? A living dog is better than a dead lion. Shall a man go and hang himself because he belongs to the race of pygmies, and not be the biggest pygmy that he can? Let every one mind his own business and endeavor to be what he was made.—H. D. Thoreau.

Her Consolation.

Annie had a little duck which followed her everywhere and was a great pet. One morning she woke to find her duck was dead. She shed many tears, refusing to be comforted, until her old "maams," with the instincts of her race, offered deep sympathy in well-timed words. Then Annie dried her eyes and rushed to her mother, voicing the consolation, "Mother, I have a little angel duck."—Delineator.

Powerful influences have been brought to bear to have President Taft remit the fine assessed for violations of the rebate law by the United States district court of Arkansas against W. C. Stith, of St. Louis, while general traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain.

Secretary Nagel was asked, but refused to sign the petition requesting that the fine be remitted.

Mr. Nagel said that Mr. Stith was his personal friend, and if requested to do so by the attorney general or the president, he will vouch for his character.

A BUMPER CROP OF CORN

So Reports "Billy" Lee, the Local "Coffee King."

"Corn was never in a better condition, and there was never a larger crop than now," "Billy" Lee, the well known "coffee king," remarked to an acquaintance Saturday, after he returned from a business visit at Knob Noster.

"The crop is bigger and better by a large margin and everywhere farmers have a full crop growing. The prospects appear mighty bright," he continued.

Now the question is, "Does 'Billy' know a good corn crop?"

The cleverest imitation of real coffee ever yet made is Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. It is fine in flavor—and is made in just one minute. No tedious 20 or 30 minutes boiling. Made from pure parched grains, malt, nuts, etc. Sample free.—J. R. Williams.

THERE'S A LEAK IN THE "LID"

This is at Columbia, Where They Voted "Dry" Recently.

There is a screw loose in Columbia, says the Herald. There is a leak in the lid. The scrip doctor's business is slacking up. It takes more to local option to make a town dry.

Is the public asleep—eyes open? Somebody is going to get into trouble. So far it has been pretty dry in Columbia, but it looks like the grand jury is going to have a job soon.

Too much early morning business. Who's doing it? We'll have to separate the sheep from the goats and kill the goats. It's dry, all right, but there is a leak in the lid. There is a screw loose. We don't need any more new drug stores. We need the law enforced.

CITY'S TERRIBLE EPIDEMIC OF CRIME

Judicial Error Has Been Discovered
After a Lapse of 36 Years—
Happy Sequel to a Peculiar Courtship.

By Paul Villiers.
Cable to the Democrat-Sentinel.
(Hearst News Service.)

Paris, June 19.—By a rather curious coincidence, this year, which is the centenary of the birth of Baron Haussman, who did so much for the embellishment of Paris, is witnessing a determined effort in the same laudable direction. The municipal council has just opened its session, and M. Daussett, who draws up the report on the budget, says that 800,000,000 francs, neither more nor less, are imperatively needed for the improvement of the city, and that this sum must be raised.

A great deal, in fact, has still to be done. A better water supply is required; the various services demand better treatment, if the town is to be rendered healthier, as the drains are still in a defective condition.

Large and important thoroughfares still await termination, and old mairies and other public edifices in a more or less rickety state have to be rebuilt. If, indeed, the fortifications which encircle Paris are to be demolished and replaced by large open places, to which the poorer classes can betake themselves when their work is over, a billion of francs will be nearer the mark.

At present, however, M. Daussett will be content with the smaller sum, and, as the prefect of the seine and the council generally are agreed in admitting the necessity for a determined effort some practical decision may soon be anticipated.

But $160,000,000 are not to be secured at a moment's notice, so that ways and means will have to be carefully considered. The prefect of the seine has suggested 600,000,000 francs to be distributed over works covering a period of forty years, but M. Deville, a former president, advocates an immediate loan of 1,000,000,000 francs. The question is extremely interesting, owing to the magnitude of the sum needed and to the purposes to which it is to be applied.

There was a terrible epidemic of crime in the city yesterday, due, as one paper remarks, to the intense heat. The Apaches were not solely responsible for the blood.

Of the dramas and tragedies the most serious occurred in the Rue La-tellier. After living happily together for some time a cabman and his mistress resolved to regularize their situation. The marriage duly took place and the couple began to keep house in earnest.

But their happiness seems to have flown out of the window. The wife became very exacting. She reproached the cabman because he could not place fashionable dressmakers at her disposal. Tired of married life, he resolved to seek a divorce. There was a desperate quarrel, in the course of which glasses and bottles flew. It ended by the wife ordering her husband to make his will. The poor man was afraid to sleep in his own house until he had the locks of the doors changed. He returned home yesterday to take the necessary rest for guarding against his wife's violent intrusion. He had scarcely entered the house when the wife appeared armed with a revolver. Immediately two shots rang out and the cabman fell dead with two bullet holes in the region of his heart.

A singular story of a judicial error having been discovered after the lapse of thirty-six years comes from Sarreburg. In 1873 several young men left the commune of Garbourg and fled to France in order to escape military service. They found work at Pompey.

One evening as Jacques Drost, one of the young men, was returning to his lodging he found his comrade lying on the road dead. Drost raised the body with the intention of carrying it to his rooms, but the approach of the dawn awoke in him a fear that he might be taken as his comrade's slayer, and he escaped. He was arrested the same evening. The blood found on his clothes con-

London, June 19.—Miss Anita Stewart, daughter of Mrs. J. H. Smith, of New York, who was presented to the king and queen of England at the last court of the season, June 11, stinted a striking proof of his guilt and he was sentenced to six years' penal servitude by the assize court of Meur et Moselle.

The young man, who never ceased protesting his innocence, died before the expiration of his sentence. Now it is announced that one of the men who fled to France to escape military service, has confessed before witnesses that he committed the murder. Jacques Drost was therefore innocent. His sister has just petitioned M. Briand, the minister of justice, for a revision of the trial of 1873.

So soaring an imagination had a young lady living in the Rue d'Allemange that she refused to be prosaically courted on the level ground. She never disclosed to her old mother the fact that she was being wooed by an aspiring young man. So the other evening the fond and agonizing parent went to the police to report that her daughter had vanished, and several large pieces of furniture as well.

On inquiry a tenant in the same house volunteered important evidence. He had several times seen a young couple, evidently in love, sitting under an umbrella on the roof among the chimney pots. On one occasion he observed them in close conference, still on the roof, with a plumber who was at work there.

The plumber, having been interviewed by the police, confessed that it was he who removed the old lady's furniture out of the window, having been induced to do so by her daughter for a consideration of 20 francs. The next thing to find was the furniture, which was discovered in an empty room, where the couple apparently intended keeping house when they had enough spooning on the roof.

At last the turtle doves themselves were captured. The girl was brought down from the roof into her mother's lowly quarters, where the young man may now court her, on condition that he comes in by the door, in the ordinary way, and the wedding day is fixed. The mother has, and would have had if she had been told, no objection to the match. The girl escaped on the roof with the furniture only for the sake of picturesqueness.

SECEDE FROM A CHURCH

UAL DURING THE PAST
SEVERAL YEARS.

IN THE YEAR 1908 WERE 9118 SECEDERS

Judging by the First Five Months, the Total for 1909 Will Be Near-

May Be Doubled.

(Hearst News Service.)

Berlin, June 19.—The synod of the Lutheran church in Berlin discussed yesterday a subject which is causing the greatest uneasiness here in ecclesiastical circles, namely, the rapid growth of seceders from the Protestant State church.

This secession movement in Berlin, although it began ten years ago, did not assume serious dimensions until 1906, when 3,766 men and women left the church.

In the following year the number of these rose slightly to 3,802, but in 1908 the number of seceders rose to a jump to 9,118, and in 1909 the figures for five months would seem to indicate that at the end of this year nearly 12,000 will have severed their connection with the church of their fathers.

The seceders would seem to be for the most part well-to-do workmen, but there are not lacking among them many whose contributions to church funds will be seriously missed.

Various reasons are given for the movement, which is not by any means confined to Berlin. There is the increasing influence of social democratic views, which in this country at least are bitterly opposed to the church.

There is the further well known tendency of the clergy of the state church to identify themselves with the interests of those in power. There is likewise a growing lack of sympathy between the clergy and the people in all that pertains to pastoral work and a dislike to paying church taxes.

There is also a growing spirit of rationalism in theology, which is rapidly sapping the foundations of the older religious beliefs. Judging by the proceedings at the synod the church seems powerless to stop the drain.

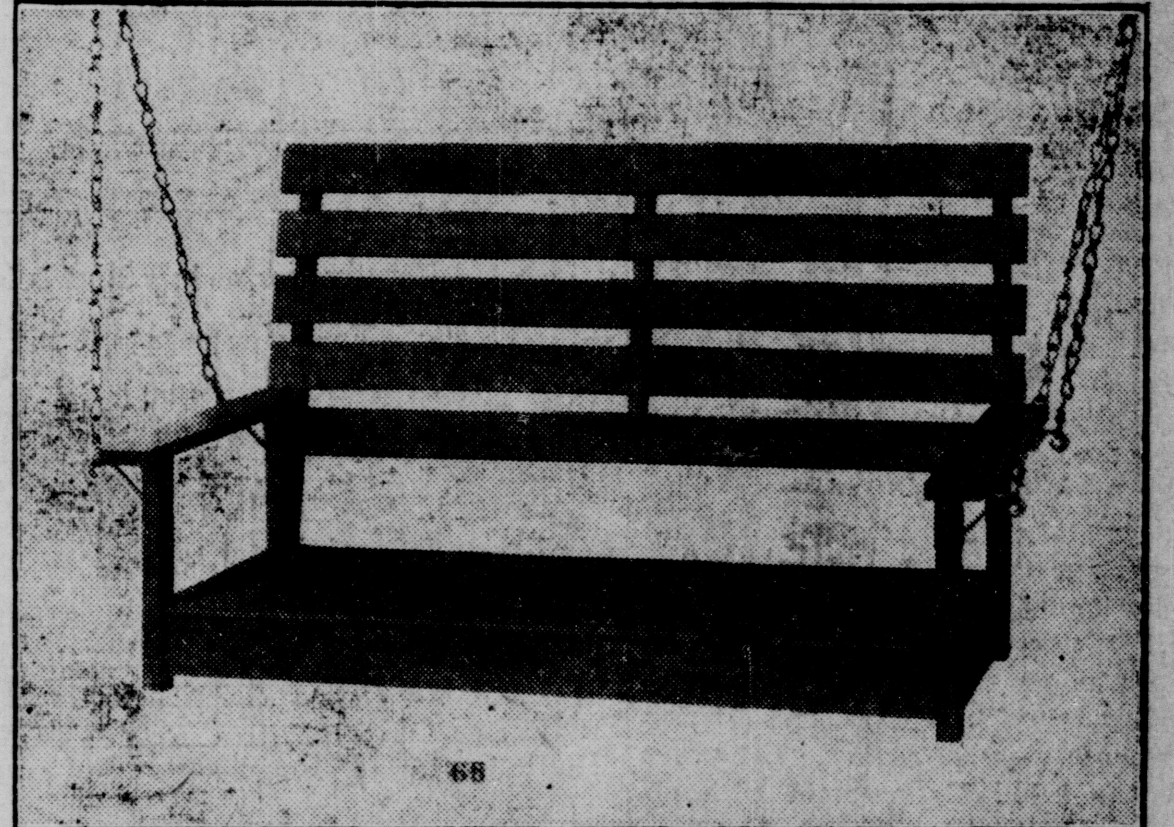

The Prussian diet has adopted a proposal for heavily increasing in some cases doubling taxes on titles. On elevation to a dukedom a tax of $2,500 will be levied; $1,500 will be collected from a man who has become a prince and $900 from a count. It is estimated that these distinctions are conferred in Germany at a rate which will produce an average annual revenue of $11,200. Extensions or changes in coats-of-arms will cost a stamp tax of $80, and alterations in or additions to noble names will involve an outlay of $310.

The titles most freely distributed by the kaiser and most ardently coveted by ambitious captains of industry—those of "commercial councillor" and "privy commercial councillor"—will cost $750 and $1,250, respectively. It is hoped to capture at least $75,000 a year for the state treasury through the bestowal of these distinctions.

Striking evidence of the effectiveness of labor exchanges in coping with unemployed is supplied by statistics just published, indicating the work accomplished in Germany by these institutions.

On January 1, 1908, there were 339 public labor exchanges in Germany, of which 248 were in Prussia, 55 in Bavaria, 11 in Saxony, 15 in Wurtemberg, 17 in Baden, 10 in Hesse and 16 in Alsace-Lorraine. In the statistical year 1907-08 work was found for no less than 932,956 persons. Of these, 61,742 were placed in jobs connected with agricultural pursuits. Men to the number of 667,411 were put to work and 265,505 women.

The great Central Exchange, in Berlin, secured work for over 100,000 people.

A Berlin manufacturer has put the first "airship trunk" on the market, for the accommodation of travelers who contemplate touring the heavens. The trunk is of aluminum, and contains a compact, apothecary's outfit for ministering to the pangs of "aerial seasickness." The trunk is to be fastened to the inner wall of the airship cabin, so as not to roll about in a "heavy sea."

Some hints to aerial passengers are conspicuously printed on the inside of the trunk under the caption, "Ten Commandments for Aerial Traveling." They read as follows:

1. Don't be afraid of falling; the vessel is solid and derailments cannot take place.
2. Don't jump out. There are no land-places in the air.
3. Don't smoke.
4. Don't light any fire.
5. Avoid going into ecstacy over "the wonderful progress of science" which this trip denotes. Everybody knows about that.
6. Select your equipment carefully.
7. Leave everything superfluous out of your trunk. The necessities are heavy enough.
8. Dress warmly; cold winds blow on high.
9. Don't be angry because you cannot find a dining car.

10. Don't point the finger of scorn at less lucky mortals; you're not responsible for this "progress."

A singular case of smuggling by means of a dummy baby was brought to light by the city customs officials at the Northern station in Vienna.

Partridge eggs have for long past been extensively stolen from preserved estates in Hungary, smuggled into Vienna and sold to poultry dealers, who hatched the eggs in incubators, brought up the birds by hand, and sold them below the prices asked by more honest dealers. A special lookout for smugglers has resulted in the arrest of two peasant women.

Arriving in Vienna in the national Slavonian costume, each of them carried a baby, tied, according to the invariable national custom, to a cushion, and so closely "packed" that only the face was visible. The women were noticed to be a little agitated as they passed the customs, and they were followed home. It was then discovered that while one baby was a living child, the other was a dummy. It consisted of a wax head, partly hidden by a shawl and cap, while the cushion was filled with more than six hundred partridge eggs.

THE MEXICAN SOMBRERO

SAN ANTONIO IS THE DISTRIBUTING POINT FOR ENTIRE UNITED STATES.

SELL AS LOW AS 5 AND 10 CENTS A PIECE

Then, Too, You Can Pay As High As $15—A Mexican Often Seen Wearing a $3 Suit of Clothing and a $10 Hat.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

San Antonio, Texas, June 19.—San Antonio is the distributing center for the United States of the Mexican straw sombreros, a hat which is being widely used throughout the southern and middle states.

In one consignment recently 720,000 of these sombreros were imported by one dealer. These hats bid fair in time to replace the 5-cent "Jim my." They have very high crowns, keeping a column of air above the head; their brims are unusually wide, some of them being young umbrellas.

Plenty of these hats retail as low as 5 and 10 cents apiece; others sell as high as 75 cents and $1.50 apiece. When the maker has been especially lavish with his decorations of out gilt and passementerie braid the cost is $3.50 to $7.50 apiece, some of them running as high as $12 and $15. It is characteristic of the Mexican to wear a $10 hat and a $3 suit of clothes, and ride a $50 saddle on a $15 pony.

A few years ago these Mexican hats were rarely seen in the United States, but now orders for them come from as far north as Missouri and Kentucky, and many of them are shipped to New York City.

The wives and daughters of the tourists have found that the finer grades of these Mexican hats can be decorated with red ribbons around the crown and brim, knotting them in big bows under their chins, thus making a most picturesque headgear for lawn parties and picnics.

The wide soft brims keep the sun off better than the sunbonnets, and are cooler; and, besides that, the effect of a pretty face in a setting of vari-colored straw and red ribbons is unquestionably fetching. To meet this high class demand some of the Mexican sombreros this year are close to the genuine Panama in looks.

The duty on these hats runs from 25 to 50 per cent, and freight charges are added. It is estimated that between 750,000 and a million are purchased every year in the United States.

PRESIDENT TAFT SCORES VICTORY IN PLAN TO RAISE MORE REVENUE.

ALDRICH CROWD IS DEALT HARD BLOW

However, the Defeat of the Income Tax Proposition Is Deeply Regretted by Many—A Large Contract Awarded.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Interest in the rates of duty imposed by the Payne-Aldrich tariff has given place during the past week to consideration of the special form of taxation which is to be imposed by the bill, in addition to the customs, to raise revenue.

Indications at this time all point to the defeat of the income tax proposition advocated by Senators Bailey and Cummins and a following composed of practically all the democrats and a considerable number of republicans.

This has been accomplished through the influence of the president. Mr. Taft, when informed by the senate leaders of their inability to array a majority of the senate against an income tax, determined that the psychological moment had arrived for the accomplishment of a reform first proposed by President Roosevelt and heartily espoused by Mr. Taft when he was a member of the Roosevelt cabinet.

This is the inspection by federal authorities of the books and transactions of corporations, with a view to eliminating those corporate abuses which have been the bane of the management of great corporations in this country and the exposure of which has so shaken public confidence in their securities.

Mr. Taft conceived the idea that by imposing a tax on the net earnings of corporations the government could compel them to submit their books to the inspection of federal officials; that such corporations, owing, as they do, their existence to the state, could thus be required to contribute their share to the expenses of the state; that the deficit in the federal revenues could be wiped out, and that the nation could be relieved from almost sole dependence on the customs duties as a source of revenue.

The president did not undertake to force his ideas on congress until the senate leaders appealed to him for assistance to head off the income tax, but when they asked his help he gave it in such form that they now find themselves compelled to provide a system of excise which to the majority of them is only less repugnant than the income tax.

This situation constitutes a material victory for the president and a severe blow to that autocracy which Senator Aldrich and a few chosen colleagues have long exercised in the senate. In the estimation of all thoughtful observers the denouement of the situation in the senate augurs well for the future of all those progressive policies for which President Taft stands, and to which in the natural order of things the extremely conservative element in the senate must have proven an insurmountable obstacle.

Of course, the defeat of the income tax proposition is a serious disappointment to its democratic advocates. Nevertheless, even they obtain some measure of victory in the triumph of President Taft, for it has been agreed that both houses of congress will pass by the necessary two-thirds vote a joint resolution providing for an amendment to the constitution, specially authorizing congress to impose a tax on incomes. That such an amendment is necessary is doubted by some of the ablest lawyers in the senate, including Mr. Bailey, of Texas.

On the other hand, President Taft and other jurists of a standing which entitles their opinions to respect, believe that it would be decidedly unsafe for the federal government to enact an income tax and depend upon it for revenues, because of the possibility that the supreme court might again pronounce such excise unconstitutional.

The accomplishment of a two-thirds vote in both houses of congress for the purpose of constitutional amendment is no small achievement. That accomplished it will remain only for the states themselves to approve it, and when three-fourths of them have done so all possibility of judicial defeat for an income tax will have been removed.

The contract for the construction of the new dry dock of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, has been awarded to the San Francisco Bridge Co., the contract price being $1,750,000. Announcement to this effect was made

MR. TAFT TO BE A TURNER

WILL MAKE HIM A MEMBER AT THIRTIETH NATIONAL "TURNFEST."

IT OPENED IN CINCINNATI, O., SATURDAY

Organization Has Been in Existence Fifty Years—Total Cost of the Entertainment Will Be in Excess of $50,000.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Cincinnati, June 19.—Cincinnati is preparing to entertain the greatest assemblage of visitors it has had in years during the thirtieth National Turnfest, which commenced today with the arrival of several thousand visitors and will continue for nine days. President Taft is expected to return to his home city while the festival is in progress, and will be made a Turner on sight.

The Turner organization has been in existence over fifty years. At first it was the custom to hold the Turnfest every year, then it was held every two years, and finally it was held every four years, like the Olympic games.

Of late years, however, it has been an annual event. It is the first time in twenty years that Cincinnati has had the Turner hosts within the corporate boundaries, and the preparations for the event have been on an elaborate scale. At the present time 238 societies are represented, comprising about 200 cities, with 60,000 members.

The Turners started with the idea of the necessity of inculcating in the minds of the public, especially school children, the benefits of physical culture, particularly outdoor recreation of all kinds, and indoor all forms of exercise that will increase the physical and mental status of the races.

One of the principal conditions of a national Turnfest is that a regular military camp must be provided, with all sanitary precautions indorsed by the armies of the world.

Two thousand five hundred active Turners will be in the tent city on the Carthage fair grounds during the progress of the national turnfest. Besides, there will be thousands of other visitors, and the precautions taken for the health and comfort of the visitors will be of the latest improved standards.

By unanimous vote both branches of congress, through the instrumentality of Representatives Longworth and Goebel, allowed the use of army tents for the Turnfest. These tents are equipped with new cots, bedding, and, for those who desire them, there are wooden floors.

The commissary department will have the task of feeding 4,000 visitors three times a day. This will require the best of management, but it will be done in fitting style.

The parade of the Turners will be one of the biggest features, and it will be one of the greatest pageants ever seen in Cincinnati. Many prominent army and navy officers and gymnastic professors will be in attendance. The parade will have civic, military, float, mass flag and school children features that will make it an event of more than ordinary interest. The public will be given a visible demonstration of the benefits of physical development.

Another equally interesting feature will be the decoration of the city. The entire line of march will be festooned. Over twenty city blocks will wave welcome to the Turners. Fourth street, from Central avenue to Main street, will be a mass of fluttering colors. Vine street will be decorated from Fourth street to the zoo.

The total cost of the entertainment to be furnished by the Turners will reach $50,000. No one is in it for selfish motives, as it will be conducted "for the honor and glory of Cincinnati."

GRAY HAIRS BANISHED

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy and gradually restored the natural color. One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days on account of its souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for

It is sold by all druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct prepaid by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt Street, New York City, upon receipt of price.

LIZARD IN HIS STOMACH

It Had Canine Head and Four Well Formed Bow Legs.

Georgetown, Del., June 19.—Baffling the efforts of many specialists in their endeavors to cure him of a serious trouble, supposed to be cancer of the stomach, Clarence Thompson, a young farmer near here, suddenly found relief yesterday when he vomited up a small lizard-like creature, which closely resembled a miniature bulldog, having four bowed legs and a perfectly formed canine head.

Ever since last summer, when, during the haying time, Thompson drank from a small stream in one end of the field, he has been suffering from terrible pains in his stomach, and has gradually grown to a mere shadow of his former robust self.

It is believed he unwittingly swallowed the queer creature at that time.

"D. A. R." TO UNVEIL MEMORIAL TABLET

Maud Adams to Appear As "Joan of Arc"—Glenn Guernsey Calls New York a "Jay" Town—Example of High Finance.

By Glenn Guernsey.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

New York, June 19.—What is described by its owners as "the newest and largest German ship afloat" is due to arrive tomorrow on its initial trip across the Atlantic and will be given a welcome such as has never before been accorded a vessel flying a foreign flag. There will be patriotic demonstrations in which German-Americans and natives of this land of the free will join, and later in the week the Daughters of the American Revolution will visit the big liner and unveil on its deck a memorial tablet.

All of this because the incoming vessel bears the name of George Washington and is the first important foreign steamship to thus do honor to the Father of His Country. The George Washington is 722 feet in length and is the largest and most imposing of the North German Lloyd fleet, having a tonnage of 27,000. It will remain here until July 1, when it will sail on the return trip.

The George Washington was only recently completed in Bremen, and in its interior fittings and decorations is one of the finest passenger vessels afloat. A remarkable feature is its kitchen, which occupies a space of 47,000 cubic feet, and is furnished with every labor-saving device available. Dishwashing machines, coffee mills, egg beaters, potato peelers, dumb waiters and other appliances are all operated by electricity, an innovation in the domestic arrangements of steamships.

The tablet that is to be presented to the vessel by the Revolutionary Daughters is bronze, and the design includes a medallion of George Washington. Below the medallion the American eagle and the German imperial eagle face each other. The inscription bears the announcement that the tablet is erected to commemorate the first foreign ship named for the first American president.

Miss Adams in Armor.

Miss Maud Adams, the cleverest of actresses, who recently closed her New York engagement in "What Every Woman Knows," is now busy with preparations for her triumphal appearance in the stadium of Harvard university next week. Clad in a most becoming costume of steel armor, cut in an extreme directoire style, with dainty trimmings of Valenciennes brass and Battenberg cast iron, and mounted on a milk-white Arabian steed, accoutred in all the glory of tinsel and gold, the dainty, dashing little woman will doubtless make a charming Joan of Arc. Her appearance in the Schiller tragedy will be one of the most spectacular events in American dramatic history, since this modern Joan will lead a stage army of no less than 200 horsemen and near a thousand foot soldiers.

In preparation for her appearance Miss Adams have been taking her morning rides -horseback fully accoutred in the coat of mail which she will wear in the performance, and has mastered the difficult task of wearing the unaccustomed costume with the grace that always characterizes her movements, at the same time keeping a firm seat on her fiery steed.

It is no press agent dream to say that Miss Adams is an equestrienne of rare accomplishments, and there are probably few actresses—or actors—as well fitted for a horseback role as she. Daily gallops are one of her principal recreations while sojourning on her Long Island estate.

It is stated that Miss Adams has received an invitation from Mrs. Taft to give an outdoor performance of "Peter Pan" on the White House lawns and that she has accepted.

Oh, You Kid!

If anything was lacking—but there isn't—to prove that New York is the biggest yip town in the universe, and entitled to the appellation of the rubic city, it could be found in the acceptance of such slang phrases as "Oh, you kid."

Meaningless jargon that it is, utterly bereft of any glimmer of common sense that would appeal to the intelligence lurking in the noodle of a new-born doodle-bug, the phrase has been taken up and perpetuated by millions of the human insects that have their burrows in the metropolis.

On the streets one is greeted by hawkers offering for sale buttons bearing the idiotic refrain—buttons from which dangle rude caricatures of nude infants—and which are thrust into the faces of men and women alike with insulting repetitions of the lococo phrase. Phonographs repeat the idiotic exclamation, and vaudeville performers inject it forcibly into their already wearisome dialogue.

There lurks this grain of comfort—that some day some inmate of the brainstorm ward at Bellevue will invent another phrase saying, if that be possible, an even higher percentage of damfoolishness. It will find an immediate response in the addled brains of New York's inspired idiots, and the metropolis will once more prove its claim as the yip city of the universe.

Thomas Fortune Ryan, the old fox of traction and other devious deals in high finance, will not be without a successor. A Harlem youth is in training for the job, and if he keeps up his present pace, he will not be long in arriving.

This young financier, dissatisfied with the meager profits to be eeked slowly from the sale of newspapers, devised a new scheme that has been highly successful.

He invested his capital in an umbrella, and on the first rainy day stationed himself at an uptown elevated station. Such passengers as arrived without umbrellas he approached with a proposition to accompany them home, permitting the use of his rain-shedder. For this service he charged ten cents for three blocks or less, and found many takers.

It was at this point that he demonstrated his ability as a captain of industry. Investing his earnings in more umbrellas, he offered to establish other boys in the new profitable business for one-half of the profits. Assuming that he had obtained the exclusive privilege of supplying escorts to elevated and subway passengers, many other boys accepted the bait, and became the employees of the youthful financier.

Of late, several independent umbrella carriers have entered the business and are carrying on an anti-trust warfare. The originator of the plan immediately stationed some of his boys at these competing stations and cut prices in such a ruinous manner as to render the service unprofitable for his competitors. A few independents are still carrying on the fight, but with little results, and the umbrella carrying trust seems to be firmly established.

A Festival of Song.

Not since Adam and Eve melodiously voiced their joy in Paradise, or apeline man chatter doleful dirges while hanging by their tails from the tregs of a pre-aboriginal forest, has such a great gathering of sweet singers been known as that assembled in our midst today to take part in the festival of song to be held in Madison Square Garden during the next few days.

German-Americans predominate many of other nationalities, including a few native-born Americans. There are those who assert that singing is almost a lost art among those born and bred under the Stars and Stripes, and except for the foreign invasion of our shores, there would be no glad-some voices lifted in lifting song. That this statement is in accord with the facts in the case seems to be affirmed by the Teutonic ascendancy in the festival beginning tonight.

FAMILY OF SHOPLIFTERS

Man, Wife and Sister Convicted; Daughter Yet to Be Tried.

New York, June 19.—Frank Wiley, his wife, Mary Wiley, and his sister, all of Jersey City, were convicted here yesterday of shoplifting.

One other member of the family, Wiley's 6-year-old daughter, who was said to be an important factor in the thefts, was not on trial, but her case will probably come up in the "children's court" later.

Department store detectives testified that the two women and the child visited the stores and selected the booty while the man waited in a convenient place and took the articles from them after each robbery.

Wiley said that he and his family came from Topeka, Kas., three weeks ago.

S.S.S. OLDEST AND BEST BLOOD PURIFIER

We have never claimed that S. S. S. was a medicine to work wonders, nor one that would cure every physical ailment or disorder. More than forty years ago it was placed on the market and recommended as a blood purifier, and today, after a long and successful career, and when its use has become almost universal, only the same honest claim is made for it—that it is a cure for those diseases and disorders arising from an impure or polluted blood. Time makes no mistakes, and the very best recommendation of S. S. S. is the fact that it has stood a long test and is now more generally used, and has the confidence of a greater number of people than any other blood medicine.

The blood is the most vital force of life; every organ, nerve, muscle, tissue and sinew of the body is dependent on it for nourishment and strength, and as it circulates through the system, pure and rich, it furnishes to these different members the healthful properties needed to preserve them and enable them to perform their various duties. So long as the blood remains free from infection we are apt to escape disease, but any impurity, humor or poison acts injuriously on the system and affects the general health.

Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes, and the various skin affections, show that the blood is in a feverish condition as a result of some humor, or the presence of an irritating, fiery acid. Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the circulation, while Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula and Contagious Blood Poison, are all deep-seated blood disorders that will continue to grow worse as long as the cause remains. Bad blood may come from various causes, such as a sluggish condition of the system, imperfect bowel and kidney action, indigestion, etc., or the trouble may be inherited; but whatever the cause the blood must be purified before the body can be healthy.

S. S. S. is a natural blood purifier and tonic. It is made entirely of the harmless juices and extracts of roots, herbs and barks of recognized curative ability, and being free from all harmful minerals is an absolutely safe medicine for young or old. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and removes any and every trace of impurity, humor or poison. It freshens and enriches the blood and cures promptly and permanently Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood disorders. S. S. S. is the most reliable and at the same time a most pleasant acting medicine for those whose blood has become weak and who are suffering with Anemia, Malaria or some other debilitating sickness.

A blood purifier is especially needed in the Spring to cleanse the circulation of the impurities which have accumulated during the shut-in life of Winter, and S. S. S. is the most reliable and certain of good results. Book on the blood and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Having used S. S. S. extensively I can testify to its merits as a blood purifier and tonic. It enriches, purifies and cleanses the blood of all impurities, and at the same time is a wonderful invigorator, tonic and system builder. It is also a fine remedy for Rheumatism. It is master of this very painful disease, and as a tonic to give appetite, strength to the nerves and build up the system it has no equal. It is a very fine medicine indeed, and I have every confidence in it. MRS. F. L. BAILEY.

Many young men find life in the Navy attractive, with opportunity to save money and get practical training. The Navy needs mechanics of all kinds; men experienced in clerical work, in hospital work, as well as seamen. This nation is building a powerful and efficient navy, and an enlistment means a definite plan now and a definite future.

There is an incentive to get to the top in the naval service. Ambitious men have every encouragement to improve themselves. A man is assured of continuous employment at good pay, and advancement as he becomes more proficient.

The government prefers to train young men at its own expense, at naval training stations. The recruit is placed on the payroll the day he enters. Practical instruction, intended to fit a young man to go on board ship in a few months' time and do the work required of him.

The Navy department doesn't urge young men to enlist, but suggests that they investigate and decide for themselves whether the opportunities are worth considering.

Applicants accepted between 17 and 25, or if possessing a trade, if under 35. Boys under 18 must furnish written consent of parent or guardian; and under 21, must furnish birth certificate, or statement of age, signed by parents. DRUNKENNESS IN SCHOOLS

Reports in regard to Pupils in Bayonne, N. J., Verified.

New York, June 19.—The report that drunkenness prevails among the pupils in the Bayonne, N. J., public schools, has been verified, despite the denials of the city officials, by a committee of the school board, whose report sustains the charges made by Dr. Henry A. Abbott, medical inspector, that many children attended school under the influence of liquor.

The school board issued an appeal to parents, teachers and pupils to do their utmost in discouraging the use of intoxicants by the children of the city.

It was also resolved to enforce the law forbidding the sale of cigarettes to boys under 16 years old.

AFTER THE "JOY RIDER"

SPECIALLY TRAINED AUTOMOBILE DETECTIVES TO LAY IN WAIT.

ROOF GARDENS OPENING THEIR SEASON

School Children on Streets Tempted to the Use of the Deadly Cocaine Drug—Gould Scandal Draws Crowds.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

New York, June 19.—To protest life and limb against the hundred thousand and motor cars that whirl over this island and its suburbs night and day, public authorities and private vigilantes have today inaugurated for the summer season the strictest defensive campaign that Gotham has ever known.

Lurking for the joy rider at every turn of the speedways, scores of specially trained automobile detectives are now being posted each night by private organizations formed to preserve human life against the motor maniac. Squads of patrolmen, on motor cycles, in darkly hooded autos and on foot have been detailed to the single duty of keeping the summer rush of motor traffic within the grasp of the authorities.

More than a hundred pairs of eyes are ceaselessly watching each move of the automobile traffic during every hour of the night, and newly perfected camera clocking devices are secretly snapping their evidence of speed violations from sunrise to dark. Never have New Yorkers been so roused to curb the abuses of motoring; and before the hot days are over it is believed that this pressing problem will be much more nearly solved.

Glittering Gardens Opened.
Drawing diamonds outnumbering the pebbles on their gravel walks and rich gowns almost outvaluing the very buildings which they top, half a dozen gaudy roof gardens are today opening the season of summer nights with a display of luxury in their audiences which has not been seen here since the times were at their best.

No one who finds himself stacked about by the most elaborate of Paris toilettes at any one of these resorts of the hot nights can fail to find sure signs that the old prodigality has once more made Broadway its own. Drowning the voices of the aerial performers, the ceaseless pop of champagne corks proclaims that men with money are again flocking every by-way of the tenderloin.

Time was when flannel suits and shirt waists took the place of the glittering evening dress of this year's roof garden crowds and beer and sandwiches sufficed where now terrapin and vintage wines abound.

This present profusion of the luxuries of night life invariably means better business in forgotten office hours, and the oldest observers predict from its coming at this time a speedy return to the best of good times.

Child Corruption Reported.
That the very school children who flock the streets have been approached and tempted into the use of the deadly cocaine drug has been brought to light through extensive investigation into this evil today. The cocaine procurer is known to be very much in evidence in every block of the disreputable districts here; but no one ever suspected that one of these drug demons would attempt to fix the fearful habit upon groups of innocent school children.

Rigid investigation of this matter is today being taken up by the police in connection with their general crusade against the cocaine curse on this island. It is hoped by the police heads who have to cope with the effects of the insidious cocaine habit, that congress will answer the plea of the American Health league and shut out the secret foreign supply of this destructive drug by a practically prohibitive tariff and place revenue restrictions upon the domestic distribution.

And the Clock Stopped, Too.
For the first time in a decade the city hall clock stopped twice this week as "Marty" Keese, its veteran custodian, lay dying in a hospital on Long Island.

For twenty-eight years this faithful old custodian has ruled over every nook of the main building, and his friends include every one of the great army of mayors, aldermen, city officials and newspaper men who have passed in and passed out again since the time of Tweed.

As deputy sheriff "Marty" boasts of his arrest of Tweed in the old Metropolitan hotel, before he came finally to take up the care of city hall. No more interesting character has lived in recent years to remind the present politicians of the political past than "Marty" Keese, and the building he superintended for the better part of his life looks today sadly empty and unkempt.

The city hall clock has been wound up to go on without him, and so his friends must take up the daily round in spite of the lack of his familiar face.

Scandal of the Goulds.
To those who love to devour the details of divorce proceedings these days of the Gould case and a dozen other recitals of marital difficulties are offering rare opportunities. From over the water spout stories concerning another young millionaire are also furnishing food for the scandal mongers.

To the cleaner minded, and luckily the greater part of the public, this riot of scandalous stories is proving more or less of a bore, however. Of the Gould tale almost every one is sick and tired, while the adventures of Alfred Vanderbilt present a certain sameness and lack of novelty.

The days of extravagant public delight over the unearthing of big bundles of scandal seem to be almost over, even in this light-minded town.

ECHO OF A CHURCH FIGHT

A Chicago Baptist Minister Who Opposed Foster Resigns Position.

Chicago, June 19.—As the result of criticism of his fight to oust Prof. George Burnham Foster, of the University of Chicago, from the Baptist ministry because of the teaching of Prof. Foster's book, "The Function of Religion in Man's Struggle for Existence," the Rev. Johnston Myers, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church of this city, resigned yesterday as president and superintendent of the Baptist executive council.

At a conference of Baptist ministers last Monday, Prof. Foster won in the fight made by Mr. Myers and others to throw him out of the church. In offering his resignation, Mr. Myers said:

"I am unwilling to be longer identified in my present capacity with a body of Baptists that commends the theology of a Unitarian. I inform you now that my fight in that direction is not ended, but since my leadership is odious, I will withdraw it. If you want a jellyfish for a leader you can go and get one."

The resignation was accepted.

Many young men find life in the Navy attractive, with opportunity to save money and get practical training. The Navy needs mechanics of all kinds; men experienced in clerical work, in hospital work, as well as seamen. This nation is building a powerful and efficient navy, and an enlistment means a definite plan now and a definite future.

There is an incentive to get to the top in the naval service. Ambitious men have every encouragement to improve themselves. A man is assured of continuous employment at good pay, and advancement as he becomes more proficient.

The government prefers to train young men at its own expense, at naval training stations. The recruit is placed on the payroll the day he enters. Practical instruction, intended to fit a young man to go on board ship in a few months' time and do the work required of him.

The Navy department doesn't urge young men to enlist, but suggests that they investigate and decide for themselves whether the opportunities are worth considering.

Applicants accepted between 17 and 25, or if possessing a trade, if under 35. Boys under 18 must furnish written consent of parent or guardian; and under 21, must furnish bi't certificate, or statement of age, signed by parents. Reports in regard to Pupils in Bayonne, N. J., Verified.

New York, June 19.—The report that drunkenness prevails among the pupils in the Bayonne, N. J., public schools, has been verified, despite the denials of the city officials, by a committee of the school board, whose report sustains the charges made by Dr. Henry A. Abbott, medical inspector, that many children attended school under the influence of liquor.

The school board issued an appeal to parents, teachers and pupils to do their utmost in discouraging the use of intoxicants by the children of the city.

It was also resolved to enforce the law forbidding the sale of cigarettes to boys under 16 years old.
